ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Like most books, this one was a group effort. My colleagues at Global Exchange must be thanked first because they make it a joy to go to work each day. In a society where so many people hate their jobs, that is no mean feat. I am grateful to Laurie Adams, Medea Benjamin, Michael Goldman, Kathie Klarreich, Kirsten Moller, Deaneen Newell, Eve Vanderschmidt and Wanda Whitaker for being co-workers who have mastered the difficult art of having fun while getting the job done.

I am indebted to Tenaya Jackman and Peter Jakob for their diligent research, and to Sara Miles and Helen Janover for their countless editing suggestions.

Most personally, I thank my family—Medea, Arlen and baby Maya—for giving me more hope and humor than any one man really deserves.

Finally, I offer my deepest gratitude to the hundreds of Africans who educated me over the years, teaching me so many things that can't be expressed in words.
